Lovingly Crafting Items for Non-Profit Groups

Over the last few months, members of the Knitting/Crocheting Ministry have been creating little hats, booties, prayer shawls and other items for donation to several non-profit groups.

While many ministries at St. John take the summer off, the Knitting/Crocheting Ministry meets year-round on Tuesdays from 10:00 a.m. -12:00 noon in the Claussen Center. Although smaller in number than the seasonal group, they continue to craft articles which represent their ministry of Christian outreach.

The original ministry began as a “for-profit” group of crafters creating articles for purchase at parish events. In 2010, Fr. John asked the group to become a “non-profit” ministry creating items to be given to charitable organizations. This idea evolved into relationships with hospital neo-natal units, chemotherapy clinics, nursing homes, pregnancy centers, and even the U. S. Army!

With pastel baby hats and booties, rainbow chemotherapy caps, multi-colored lap robes and prayer shawls, and woolen helmet liners for our troops, their cupboard is never bare. Although an inventory has never been kept, the talented crafters have lovingly knitted/crocheted hundreds of items not only during their Tuesdays together, but during their free time at home.

From fellowship to sharing patterns to discussing world events, the group has never lacked a Christian identity. Many have commented how blessed they are to share their talents with so many. The group has received many letters of thanks.

Other handcrafters are always welcome to join the ministry.

Even if you can't physically gather with the group, handcrafters can always knit/crochet items at home and donate them to the ministry. Common patterns are available upon request. Handcrafters might also wish to donate yarns to be shared within the group. (Joann Fabrics cashiers cringe when they see the crafters coming with their fistful of coupons!)

Would you like to learn to knit or crochet? There are mentors with many years of experience who will be happy to help you begin! Contact Mary Chalhoub at 414.791.9363 with any questions.

Dear Mary,

We love them – the infant hats you and the ladies of St. John's made for our client's babies! You can't imagine how it touches our mothers to know that someone they don't even know would create such a special gift for them. Your gifts go beyond a lovely way to keep a newborn's head warm – your gifts reassure our mothers that they are loved.

Thank you so much.

Dear Sister Knitters and Crocheters:

This is to thank you for the ten shawls and lap robes which you gave to Barbara to bring to our Pelican Bay Women's League's Kneedlers group. We truly appreciate your generosity.

These products of all your hard work will be distributed to military hospitals, VA centers, veterans' homes, child care centers, cancer treatment facilities, disaster victims and/or other worthwhile causes along with our own creations.

Your handiwork is lovely. I imagine that you get as much satisfaction as we do out of making these lap robes, shawls and other items for charity.

Again, thank you for your support.

Sincerely,

LET US PRAY...

AUGUST 11, 2013 ~ NINETEENTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

I know that I am a bit more biased than most, however, I feel it prudent to recognize that we have (by far) the nicest parish bulletin that I have ever seen. And I have seen my share! This amazing publication is a combination of efforts between Messner Publications and our very own Kathy Sims (Bulletin Editor.)

Messner Publications has gone above and beyond the call of duty to provide us with the highest quality paper and ink resulting in an aesthetically pleasing finished product. Kathy spends the majority of three days per week designing and editing the bulletin to provide our parishioners with current and relevant information, complete with as many pictures as possible. Thanks to Messner Publications and Kathy Sims for providing our parishioners with a world class bulletin.

Many of you most likely saw the first set of new doors this past week if you entered through the main entrance. Unfortunately, the new doors were not completely finished due to an issue which developed with the hinges. As a result, new (full length) hinges were ordered and optimistically both sets of doors should be completely operational by this weekend. Regardless of the issues with the hinges, the new doors are absolutely beautiful and make quite a statement for those entering the church. The wood used is called "Sapele" and comes from a very large tree native to Tropical Africa. Believe it or not, Cadillac uses Sapele for the interior wood trim on some of its vehicles. The frosted impact glass cutout with our logo in the middle panes of the doors turned out great. In addition to adding beauty to the front of our church, these doors will also provide the enhanced level of security we have been lacking for quite some time.

As a result of damage from the lightning strike in July, we will be installing a new phone system in the next few weeks. Our capabilities will be increased exponentially with our new system, however, I am sure there will be a lengthy learning curve. In addition, I am sure at some point our phones will be down while we transition from the old to the new. We will do our best to notify our parishioners via email blast if there will be any interruption of service. I, for one, am looking forward to this update to our phone system which was over 16 years old.

We have finally settled on a vendor for our new surveillance system. The new system will have (like our phone system) amazing capabilities and give us endless options as far as implementation. The new system may not save us from being robbed again, but I can assure you that we will know the perpetrators details right down to the brand of clothing he/she may be wearing during the theft. We hope to have the new system in place by the end of August.

We recently made some repairs to the wood facia of the Claussen Center. It is hard to believe, but after only seven years, much of the wood (where the water collects on the roof) had begun to rot. New wood has been installed and will be painted to match next week.

Marty Gauthier has nearly completed the conversion of the sacristy to include a new Altar Servers room. Marty has spent the last two weeks building a wall, complete with a door and closets to house the albs for the Altar Servers.

The priests will now have a very private area to vest while the Altar Servers and Sacristan will share a space. Jackie Gibson has returned from vacation and explained in detail her plans for the new expanded gift shop. Much of the demolition work in the gift shop will take place later this month. If everything goes as planned (which it never does) then we should have everything completed by mid-September.

In His work together,

Scott Schlossberg, MBA
General Manager

The Word & Life

The Value of Preparedness

If all of us knew the time and place of our death, we would do our best to avoid that place! All joking aside, we must acknowledge the fact that death is as natural as birth. We all have to die, but it is not up to us to know the day or the hour. Jesus tells us to be prepared for that moment when it arrives. He advises us to get our own house in order so one day we will be ready to enter the Father's house.

In the gospel today, we hear Jesus present two parables. The first talks of the need for the servants to be ready for the Master's return from the wedding. Veiled inside this parable is the message that Christ will return some day and we are expected to be attentive to his needs. In a concrete way, we are reminded elsewhere in the gospel, by Jesus that we tend to His needs by attending to those around us. Similarly, the second parable is offered in response to Peter's question, "Lord, is this parable meant for us (apostles) or for everyone?" In response, Jesus offers the apostles the parable of the servant who is left in charge to distribute the food. We hear that if the servant wastes the resources of his Master, he will be severely beaten and punished because he knew what was expected of him. This parable is meant for all of us. We are well aware of the expectations that God has for us. The expectation is that we live as Christ asked us to live and be accountable to the gospel message.

We have often heard the remark that each one of us should live each day as if it were our last day. When people find out that they are terminally ill, they tend to seek reconciliation and to heal past resentments in order to prepare themselves to meet God. It is unfortunate that it takes something so dramatic to give people a push in this regard. God has entrusted us with such a special gift – the gift of life itself. He endows us with this gift to nurture it and bring forth from what is life-giving, using the freedoms that are so rightly ours. Our choices and life mission should always reflect the choices and life mission of Jesus, that is, to do the will of the father and to accept the truth in love.

We should all take stock of our everyday activities to see where Jesus is present in our lives. If we cannot find the reality of Jesus in our experience,

Reflection Questions

1. What do you think God expects of you?
2. What does it mean to be called Christian?
3. How does the gospel challenge you to be a disciple?
4. In what ways is Christ calling us to reach out to the world?
5. Do you begin and end your day communicating with God through prayer? Why or why not?
6. How are you called to be a faithful steward of the Church, society, and creation?
7. How will you be held accountable at the end of your life?

then we must ask ourselves what we can do to make this a reality. It is evident, as we survey those around us, that many are living only for this world. This lifestyle is true poverty. We realize that our current experience of life is nothing compared to what has been prepared for us by our Father in heaven. This knowledge is the key that unlocks the fundamental options in life. Our choices and the accomplishments that we achieve in the name of Jesus are what ultimately pave the way to our true destiny.

Reflecting on the Sunday Readings with Fr. John J. Ludden, Pastor

Prayer

Lord, may we be ready to meet you when you call us from this life to yourself. Help us to rid ourselves of the barriers that keep us from each other. May we, with your help, cherish the gift of the present moment. Let our lives become a prayer to you as we set our hearts on the life of the world to come. Help us to use our gifts wisely so that we please you when we come to meet you face to face. When the sun finally sets on our lives, may your radiant dawn shine upon each one of us. Amen.

Voices of Faith

Be Prepared

The Christ of faith in apostles imparts
Freedom and Truth to change our hearts
Entrusted with the gospel faithful stewards they must be
So that all may reach eternity
The disciple must always ready be
To stand on the edge of heaven's eternity

From age to age this call will last
From East to West people called to the task
From distant lands to nearest shores
Men, women, and children must heed the call
The disciple must always ready be
To stand on the edge of heaven's eternity

The struggles of life and labors of work
The challenge of school and family strife
Are the fertile ground on which God sends
His faithful stewards with saving light
The disciple must always ready be
To stand on the edge of heaven's eternity

When terror raises its evil head
When communities struggle for daily bread
When freedom is threatened by agenda not of God
When the dignity of life is degraded and the image of God defamed
The disciple must always ready be
To stand on the edge of heaven's eternity

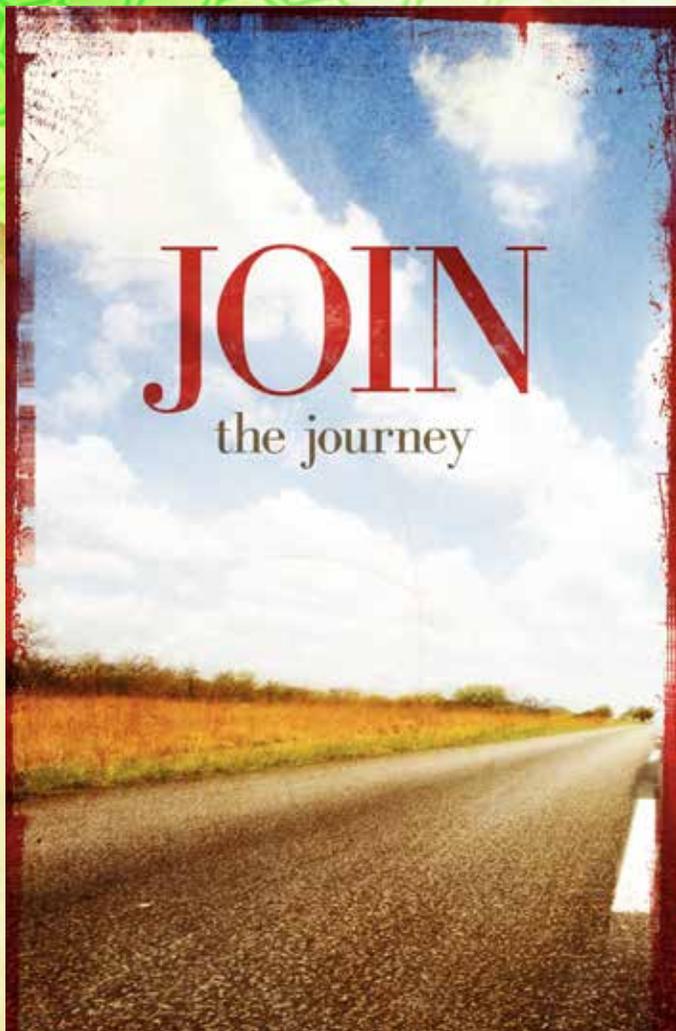

The disciple needs to be ready to open the door
Where Christ enters in the guise of the poor
The Anointed will stand will challenge and might
To live his Truth in freedom and take up this fight
The disciple must always ready be
To stand on the edge of heaven's eternity

So what of our lives, our choices, our rights
Do we consider God's wisdom and light?
For when we choose to answer His call
We must be ready to give God our all
The disciple must always ready be
To stand on the edge of heaven's eternity
